

Thomson Reuters Regulatory Intelligence for MiFID II

Navigate the MiFID II landscape with confidence.

MiFID II presents a comprehensive set of reforms, which take effect from 3 January 2018. These reforms will improve competition, consumer protection and market integrity across retail and wholesale financial markets.

With a rule book currently stretching to 1.4m paragraphs and likely to increase, MiFID II will have a pronounced impact across the financial services landscape. It will affect everyone engaged in the dealing and processing of financial instruments, from business and operating models, systems and data, to data, people and processes. With the market reforms moving ever closer to coming into force, firms face a considerable challenge in planning and executing policy and procedural change.
