QUALITY IS OUR PRIORITY

How do we ensure our resources remain the market standard? All of our resources are peer-reviewed and proofread, and many are also sent to our consultation board members and contributors for their expert opinion. Materials are continually updated to reflect changes in law and practice. We also carry out annual reviews of content to make sure it continues to be as effective as it can be.

BRINGING YOU THE INDUSTRY STANDARD

The quality of Practical Law standard documents has made many of them industry standards and coupled with the legal market's familiarity with them, this benefits all parties to a transaction, speeding up the process, keeping the focus of negotiations on substantive issues, and helping all those involved to work more efficiently.

ASK – AND SEE WHAT OTHERS ARE ASKING

Our customers find it really useful to find fast answers to their daily questions through our Ask service. Questions are answered by editors who specialise in their area of law. But Ask is not just a legal query service; it's also an online forum that connects you to your peers and provides a deep archive of useful practice points. Each week we publish about 150 Ask Q&As. Many of our customers use Ask Q&As as a basis for training sessions, internal updates, and team meetings.

Features and functionality

Beyond the content, we add features and functionality that give you the ability to work faster, collaborate better, and advise with greater confidence.

“The underlying materials (practice notes, drafting notes, case and legislation tracker tables, etc.) are extremely useful. The resources really hit the nail on the head – I think this is due to the quality of the lawyers behind the service.”

James Davies
Partner, Lewis Silkin
