

TR and Customer have entered into an Order Form that incorporates the terms set out in this Schedule (the “Information Schedule- Additional ProView Terms”) and the Master Terms.

The following additional terms apply if a ProView ebook (“eBook”) is included in an Order Form

1. ADDITIONAL TERMS FOR PROVIEW EBOOKS

- 1.1 User may download the applicable eBook to User’s device and access the eBook content online via a browser. This right is not restricted by clause 3.1.4 of the Information Schedule.
- 1.2 Access to the applicable eBook(s) will be given as soon as reasonably practical after provision of the Access Details by Customer. Customer may substitute and add Users up to the number of Users specified in the Scope of Access on the Order Form. All Users who cease to be employed or otherwise engaged by Customer must have their access to all eBooks terminated on cessation of employment/engagement. Customer is responsible itself, if it controls user access, or for notifying TR of additional, substitute or removal of Users (“User Amendments”). Liability arising from a failure of Customer to notify TR or to effect such User Amendments shall be Customer’s until such notification has been received by TR or effected by Customer. Where incomplete and/or inaccurate Access Details are provided by Customer, TR shall not be liable for any delay or failure to set up access to the eBook for all or any of the Users.
- 1.3 In order to download the eBook to User’s device and maintain access to Annotations, User will be required to set up a OnePass account (or any replacement thereof) and use the most current version of the ProView software. A connection to the Internet is required to download the eBook, to receive updates to and new editions of the applicable eBook and maintain backups of Annotations. Annotations are personal to Users, non-transferable and are web-hosted by TR on servers located, in some cases, outside the UK. Customer hereby consents to such storage.
- 1.4 TR may terminate the eBook if it discontinues the ProView software, or is otherwise unable to offer the eBook. TR may provide the content to User in another media format if commercially reasonable. TR may update User’s eBook version if necessary to maintain access to the Information.
